FINANCE AND TRADE.

FINANCIAL MATTERS, notwithstanding the beginning of a new month, are dult and unchanged; as there is only a small amount of paper to be taken up, the occurrence of a new month excites little attention. The Chicago Tribune of Tuesday thus describes the state of things there: "It is noticed that some manufacturers, like the brewers, who would in ordinary times get their receipts from collections, are carried by the banks. This has been the case with some of the merchants for a long time. The operation of familiar causes is adding to the surplus of the banks, but, to the surprise of some borrowers, the indisposition of bunkers to take risks increases as their surplus increases. The number of desirable outside borrowers is as small, probalde as it has ever been in this market. and they are able to make more favorable terms than has before been possi-Rates of discount at the banks are SG10 per cent, to regular customers; more favorable rates are made to independent borrowers who have satsfactory securities." The Cincinnati Enquirer of the same date says of financial matters there: "The general course of business in monetary circles has been in favor of a further increase in the ready means of the banks during bere has been some currency sent to the country banks, but not enough to counterbalance the receipts | demand is for really choice. through mercantile channels, and the supply is ample, if not excessive. The demand for discounts was generally small until Saturday, when it was quite active, but to-day it was light, and the banks find it difficult to keep their means fully employed at the current rates which are 7@8 per cent. In the open market prime business paper has been in active demand all the week, and while the rates remain steady at 7@8 per cent., most of the busines as done at the inside figure, and there have been some exceptional transactions as low as 6 per To-day paper was scarce, and there was a good demand for it at 7 per cent." of better quality sold at $1 15. The Chi-cago Tribune, of Tuesday, reported: "The leading produce markets were gen-erally stronger yesterday under a good speculative demand, which was born of greater confidence in the future of prices. There were several new orders in for wheat and provisions for Europe, and the limits were extended on some of the orders already here. This caused aspeculative advance which carried the mar-kets above the limits set, making it imossible to fill the orders. Hence the shipping movement was light, and freights duli, while a great deal was doing for future delivery. The cold weather, with the recent storms, and indications of an unsettled atmosphere in the future, also tended to cause strength in breadstuffs, and it was thought that the storms in Great Britain had done so much damage to the crops as to bring out the better demand already noted. The British Islands have taken our wheat much more freely during the past two or three weeks than was consistent with the statements coming from that side of the Atlantic, and it now appears probable that they will want a great Receipts at the United States seaports | deal more yet, provided that our prices

Levee Reflections. The levee was the last place to visit esterday-everything was at a dead stand-still..... It seems that the marines are becoming enthused all along the line as to the fall campaign. Here is how the Vicksburg Herald summarizes the slate being made out there: "It is said that the party who obtained the contract for carrying the mail from this city to New Orleans will put in a triweekly line of boats to earry out his contract, instead of sub-letting. Two boats are said to have been chartered already, the Legal Tender and the Idlewild, and an effort is being made to secure the third. Well, the more the merrier, and the fewer the better share, so gentlemen ome along with your crafts and make it lively. Let's see, nine packets from here to New Orleans, four from Mempais through, and a few from Helens, White river and Yazoo river, just to fill in on off days. If business will jus-.....We've got the tify it, all right." ... Thompson Dean's future movements down fine now. The St. Louis Republican puts it up this way: "After the present trip of the Thompson Dean she will be taken on the docks for examination and necessary repairs, and will also have her outside guards cut off to enable her to store cotton better, preparatory to entering the trade between middling, 14gc; low middling, 14gc; Memphis and New Orleans the ensuing good ordinary, 13gc; net receipts, 55 fall, in which trade she will continue bales; exports coastwise, 176 bales; until the breaking up of the ice in the Ohio next winter, when she will again come here.".....The song of the July-bug is heard in the land.....The towhoat Greyhound arrived night before last with a big tow of coal for this port The Anchor line packets commenced vesterday to carry all the river mails from here to Vicksburg, with the exception of the Friars Point mail, which will be carried by the Phil Allin Sell Howell's show is worth going to see. To-day he gives a grand benefit for steamboatmen's widows and orphans...... The Charles Brown, with a big tow of coal, is due to-day......One thousand sacks of oil-cake lie on the wharf boat waiting for somebody to take them to New Orleans at three dollars per ton..... The City of Vicksburg, for St. Louis, is the Anchor-Liner leaving the elevator this evening.....Travelers and shippers to and toward Vicksburg will find the Illinois in port willing and competent to accommodate them in every particular. ... Parties having business in the bends down as far as Friars Point can go themselves or have it attended to by proxy on the Phil Allin. Jimmy Thompson does the proxies up to the handle. The upper bends are represented in the neat little steamer Frank Forest, with O. P. Joplin pulling the big-bell cord. The hull of the Belie Lee is to be converted into a wharfboat at Natchez.
